

Lesley Bambridge

Lesley was raised in West Norfolk. She attended school in Wisbech and the College of West Anglia. Her first job was with Jaeger in King's Lynn, transferring to their head office in London. She eventually went into PR and advertising as a senior manager. She returned to West Norfolk after about twenty years and worked as Marketing Manager for the King's Lynn Festival and Arts Centre and later for the Isle College in Wisbech. Her involvement in education led to a project worker role with the education business partnership for Norfolk. Lesley has been a Governor for some twenty years firstly at St George's in Dersingham, at Greyfriars in King's Lynn and latterly as Chair of Governors for West Lynn, Clenchwarton and Walpole Cross Keys. She is a trustee for three charities and is Chairman of the King's Lynn Child Contact Centre and serves on the St Margaret's with St Nicholas Parish Trust. She is also an elected Councillor for a King's Lynn Ward and is elected as a Norfolk County Councillor.
